This campus is literally underneath the Abbotsford Public Library.

South of the library/UFV building is a large courtyard (Thunderbird Square), whose east side connects with Simon Avenue (the street that the hotel is on, a few blocks away).

East of the library/UFV building is free covered parking, for those who arrive at the venue by car.

North of the library/UFV building is the International Friendship Garden. You get to the entrance to the UFV campus through the International Friendship Garden, by walking north around the east side of the library/UFV building.
